BEER BOTTLES AND LABELS ARE SUBJECT OF A LAWSUIT

Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company Claim Damages From Edmonton Brewing Co.

SAY LABELS ARE SIMILAR

Want to Confiscate all "Capitol" Beer Bottles Whether Full or Empty

LAWYER HAD SAMPLES

But Wouldn't Let Thirsty Reporter See if Contents Were Similar, Too

An exceedingly peculiar action, which is all about to begin, between the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company, makers of "Budweiser" beer and the Edmonton Brewing and Malting Company, makers of the "Capitol" beer, has just come into the hands of Messrs. Emery Newell and Bolton.

The Anheuser Company are taking action against the Edmonton Company, stating that the labels on the two brands of beer are similar and claiming that all the bottles of Capitol beer in the possession of the Edmonton Brewing and Malting Co., whether full of beer or not, should be seized and the company prohibited from using any more labels of the same kind.

A reporter from the Capital called on Mr. Newell, of Emery, Newell and Bolton this morning concerning the case.

"About that beer, Mr. Newell?" said the reporter, thirstily.

"Oh, yes," said Mr. Newell, as he arose from his chair and walked over to a small table and picked up two bottles full to the brim of golden colored liquid and handed them to the reporter.

The reporter fumbled in his pockets and produced a bottle opener.

"Hey you mustn't open them." The glow of hope faded from the reporter's face and sadly he placed the bottle back on the table.

"What are the Anheuser Company claiming?" asked.

Mr. Newell then proceeded to read the statement of claim, but glancing up at the middle and seeing the reporter's eyes fixed longingly on the bottles he arose and litigated them in the safe.

The reporter sighed and resigned himself to business.

The labels on the bottles on close inspection showed a similarity of design, but the wording is not at all the same.

The Anheuser Company are claiming costs, such as the court shall see fit.

The case is an interesting one as everyone knows what a large sale the Budweiser Beer has, and it is a matter for speculation as to what good the damages they might get from the Capitol Beer, would do for such a large company.

The United States company claims that owing to the similarity of design, the Capitol beer bottles might be mistaken for theirs, and so their sales would be damaged. The case will likely be heard at the next sittings of the supreme court for civil cases.

Laurier Took a Fancy To Richard McBride

Toronto Star's Correspondent Tells of B.C.'s Premier—Premier Sifton and C. W. Cross For Federal Honors?

Thirty-nine is young in politics, and in a provincial premier's chair is worth stopping to examine. Sir Wilfrid Laurier paused in his tour of the Pacific Coast a few days ago and examined this particular instance and he came away thinking, and it is said, making prophecies to his confidantes. These prophecies concerned the Honourable "Dick" McBride, prime minister of British Columbia, and are said to have been highly complimentary, for given a Liberal with McBride's record one might suspect a cabinet minister, but given McBride the Tory,

GIRDLE EMPIRE IN CHEAP CABLE

London, Sept. 14.—At the conference of the institute of Journalists, Roth, McMillan of Sydney, Australia, moved a resolution expressing the view that the time had arrived for the binding of the empire together in a girdle of cheap cables. Remained Heaton, M. P., supporting the motion and added that especially were the hands of operators of cable rings. These should be bought out at a market price by the governments of the world. The first step should be to call a conference of the postmaster-generals of Europe, then another with the United States. The resolution of Mr. McMillan was carried.

MAY BE TROUBLE WITH TEAMSTERS

They Are Talking of Asking for a Flat Rate of Six Dollars a Day

GETTING FIVE FIFTY NOW

Shortage in the Supply of Teamsters—No Trouble with Civic Teamsters As Yet

Is there going to be trouble with the teamsters employed by the city on paving and other work?

That there is a demand for teamsters at present there is no doubt, as there is an abundance of work to do, mainly by the city but by contractors, while the progress of work in railroad construction is also hampered by the lack of teams. It remains to be seen, however, whether the teamsters will take advantage of the shortage to demand higher wages. At present the city pays them $0 cents on hour.

Inquiry at the city offices disclosed no information on the matter, the commissioners apparently being unacquainted with any demands by the teamsters. City Engineer Latorneau also stated that he knew nothing of any intended strike or demand for higher wages, and said further, that if any demand was made he would likely hear of it.

An official of the Bituthic Company, which is engaged in paving some of the city streets, however, stated that there was dissension among the teamsters in the company's employ. Their men are now getting $5.50 a day, but he states that they are endeavoring to get $6. They also talk of a general strike among all employees of the company.

AGE 92 YEARS AND MARRIES

Chicago Nonagenarian Establishes New Record for Old Age Marriages

BRIDE AGED FORTY-FOUR

Tells How He Proposed to Himself Early and Shun Divorce, He Says

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Valency E. Rose, newly wedded nonagenarian, established a record yesterday in the marriage license department. Mr. Rose lacks two months of being 92 years old. He applied for a license to marry Miss Helen Conger, 44 years old.

Clark Salmonson, immediately after the departure of the couple, delved into the archives and announced that all records had been smashed. Eighty-five years had before the age of the oldest applicant for a marriage license.

Mr. Rose, who is a veteran of the civil war and a resident of Chicago for sixty years, was born in Waterloo, N. Y., on November 9, 1818. He married at the age of 20, and his first wife lived to celebrate her sixtieth anniversary. She died five years ago.

At his residence, 502 Oakley boul-levard, Mr. Rose explained his reason for taking the latest step.

"I grieved a lot over the death of my first wife," he said. "It got to me too long, and with nothing but my memory to keep me company. I don't believe in the Robinson Crusoe style of existence as long as you don't live on a deserted Isle."

"Since meeting Miss Conger two years ago I felt that we were created for each other. Call it mental waves or psychic suggestion or whatever you want."

"There was no formal proposal. I did not ask her if she would be mine. I knew she would, and she knew I wanted her. I remarked to her the other day:

"It's about time we were applying for a license," and she said any time I wanted to say anything about my marriage.

"I don't say anything strange about a man of my age marrying. Years don't eat any figure with me. I am strong and in good health and have found the woman I love."

"Outdoor living is great for preserving the health. When I was active in business, I constructed mills and attribute my physical condition to this occupation."

"I deplore the mania for divorces in this country. The cure is to have men and women marry earlier and stay together longer. Once wedded, there should be no parting in this life."

"Divorces are sought too often on trivial grounds. A little domestic quarrel and hostile attorneys are hired immediately. Usually the troubles could be smoothed over by some reasoning by the husband and wife."

"Instead of being the first thought of married couples, the divorce court should be the last."

ANYTHING ELSE?

Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 14.—Forgery of a dead woman's name, the multiplication of documents and an attempt to bribe a clergyman, non-registration of sales and the purchase of a road for which there was no title, are among the graft charges which a special committee of the county council recommends for investigation. An application for appointment to a social committee which will be made immediately, it is expected.

EDMONTON BUSINESS MEN'S TRIP NOW ASSURED FACT

ASSISTANT-GENERAL PASS ENGER AGENT MCNIELLIE IS IN THE CITY ARRANGING DETAILS WITH SECRETARY FISHER.

Assistant general passenger agent McNielie, of the C. P. R., in Calgary, in Edmonton on a special trip to make arrangements preparatory to the business men's trip of the Edmonton Board of Trade. The trip which has been under consideration for months, was planned for June, but unfortunately the C. P. R. was unable to furnish the necessary equipment at that time. Mr. McNielie could make no promises, but it is probable that the trip will come off in the near future.

"The object of the trip," said Mr. Fisher, "is primarily to give business men, particularly wholesalers, an opportunity to meet their customers whom they touch at other times only through their travellers. We intend to bring it about in June last, but could not get cars; if arrangements can be made we will use C. P. R. cars and run them over all the lines. We can as yet, fix no date. The territory covered will be merely that immediately tributary to Edmonton."

This was approved by the council of the board of trade last June.

While the details have not yet been worked out, the idea is to arrange for a special train, consisting of sleepers and possibly a dinner, which would stop for a short time, depending on the size and importance of the place, at each point. The trip would occupy four or five days, and would probably cost in the neighborhood of $40 for each man participating. The exact time schedule and expense involved will be worked out at once.

The laying of the corner stone of the Alexandra Hospital will be performed by the Lieutenant Governor at 2 o'clock, September 22nd. This was decided at a meeting of the hospital board held this morning.

Although it has not been officially announced that this day will be a half holiday, the board of public hospitals has had information practically confirming the report, and it is believed that this day will be the best time for the performance of the ceremony.

The hospital will be situated between 10th Street and Fourth streets on the Northwood Boulevard in the Hudson's Bay premises, and will have grounds to the extent of eight acres. The cost of the building will be close on a quarter of a million.

CONVINCED HAND SKILLED IN SURGERY DISMEMBERED BODY

PROF. PEPPER SURE BODY FOUND IN CRIPPEN'S LONG DON HOUSE WAS DISSECTED BY SURGEON-CRIPPEEN TRIAL PROCEEDING.

London, Sept. 14.—Testifying at the resumption today of the Crippen murder trial, Prof. August J. Pepper, the pathologist of the University of London, said that his examination had convinced him that the human parts found in the cellar of the Hilltop Crescent home were severed by a hand skilled in surgery and directed by a mind that possessed a real knowledge of anatomy.

The prisoners in the dock presented corroborating testimony. Dr. Hawley H. Crippen was examined and collected a sworn statement. He did not miss a word of the testimony and eagerly whispered to his solicitor, Arthur Newton, whenever he thought he detected a point in his favor.

On the other hand, Ethel Le Neve, accused as an assassin, to the fact, was wan and plainly in mental and physical distress.

The amount standing in England alone at the present day is nearly $100,000,000, of which the interest and a large part of the capital will, in default of a successful petition, ultimately go to the reduction of the national debt.

Once every three years a bill of the account to the crown, which the half of the state is established in the treasury, and it appears that the half of them do not exceed $750 in value, and only about one-twentieth exceed $200.

There was a time when the investment of these funds—and the enjoyment of the dividends—was left to various officials of the courts, but in the general clearing away of petitions this easy system was done away with.

FROM THE LANDING

Oats, Wheat, Buckwheat and Poppies at the Immigration Hall

There are now on the Immigrant Hall several bins of oats, wheat, buckwheat and poppies at the landing at Athabasca Landing and contributed by the residents of that district to tempt the incoming settler. That's what people come west for and the Landing produces and displays them they are bound to get the immigrant, backed by large interests and is prepared to start operations at once on a large scale. He has looked over land near St. Peters Reserve, which he will probably purchase and left today for Bitter Lake, east of Wetaskiwin where he will probably get the amount of land he is looking for.

Mr. Moore was much interested in Edmonton and asked many questions about the district.

"Why can one not get pre-emption here as in Southern Alberta?" he wanted to know.

"There's the reason," replied Mr. Webster of the immigration office, pointing to the sheaves of golden grain that stood in the corner. "One hundred and sixty acres are enough for one homesteader here."

Mr. Moore's associates will stop their ranch with a view to supplying the incoming settlers with the cattle they require. There is a great field for operation here in view of the growth in population.

RESOLUTIONS AT CONGRESS

Trades and Labor Congress Had a Very Busy Session This Morning

RAISE THE AGE LIMIT

Congress Will Ask Government to Prohibit Children Under Sixteen From Working

VOTE ONLY IN ONE WARD

Endeavor to Make Property Owners Vote Only in Ward in Which They Reside

Port William, Ont., Sept. 14.—The auditorium was crowded this morning when the session of the Trades and Labor congress was opened. Many ladies were interested spectators of the proceedings. Resolution followed resolution in rapid order and the feature of the session was the rapidity with which the business was transacted. The framing of resolutions had been done in committee and as fast as they were handed in they were presented to the chairman for discussion.

J. B. O'Brien, of Ottawa, submitted a resolution that the provincial executive be instructed to ask the enactment of legislation compelling the different street railway companies throughout the Dominion to equip their cars with air brakes and other modern appliances.

Another resolution which was carried unanimously instructed the provincial executive to secure the passing of legislation raising the age of children eligible for employment to sixteen.

The Congress decided to use its influence to do away with the practice of allowing ratepayers owning property in different wards in municipalities to vote more than once on bylaws. It was held that he should vote only in the ward in which he resided.

A motion by George Price of Port Arthur deprecating displays of the military on labor day was introduced and applauded. It is to be discussed on Thursday. The report of John G. O'Donoghue was also taken up.

SOME INJUSTICES OF "DRUMMER" TAX

Secretary of Board of Trade Tells How the Present Regulations Work Out

Mr. Fisher of the Board of Trade when seen by a Capital reporter this morning threw some light on the so-called discrimination of the British Columbia Government against extra provincial companies in the matter of a high license fee.

"It is a mistake to think that the British Columbia Government is alone in imposing a license fee on outside companies. There is no uniformity among the provinces, but practically every one of them imposes a license fee on a company which enters its territory even though it be incorporated under the laws of the Dominion government. I might also say that there is a feeling in some quarters that the regulations of the Alberta Government do not work out fairly. We had one case come to our notice lately of a company with a subscribed capital of seven millions and a paid up capital of two millions, who failed to do business to the amount of a hundred thousand dollars in Alberta.

Before doing, however, they would be required to pay a license fee not on the subscribed capital, but on the amount exceeding the amount of a hundred thousand dollars in Alberta. Before doing business throughout the Dominion they would be required to pay a license fee on sixty-four million dollars whereas they are only using two million dollars. It is a case where the provinces ought to get together and make some agreement as to uniform and equitable treatment of such concerns."

A FORECAST

We print elsewhere an interesting article from the Toronto Star written by Britton B. Cooke, the Star's Ottawa man and representative on the Laurier tour. It is a glowing tribute to Premier McBride of British Columbia. But what is of more interest to Albertans is the reference made to Premier Sifton and Mr. C. W. Cross. "They may grow into Federal politics," says Mr. Cooke.

With the re-entry of Mr. Sifton into Provincial politics of such recent date, it is hardly likely that he will move into the Dominion house for a few years yet. But some such step upwards has been proposed for Mr. Cross for some time. He has been a leading figure in provincial affairs, and there are many Liberals in this part of the country who would be disappointed if Mr. Cross was not their representative in the Federal house sometime in the near future.

(b) THE ANSWER

Yesterday we published a letter from a Strathcona correspondent, in which reference was made to a statement that appeared in The Daily Capital a few days ago, that it was "by and with the consent of a majority of the members of the house" that Premier Sifton was called upon to lead the government. Our correspondent asked us to explain how His Honors the Lieutenant-Governor could be certain of the sentiment of the house. If our correspondent will refer to the issues of the Capital of June 17th and 22nd, he will find the matter fully explained.

It is an easy matter for a representative of the Crown to ascertain the feeling of members of the Legislature on a question like this.

We quote from The Daily Capital, June 22, 1910, as follows:

"If we wish to secure a precedent in Canadian constitutional history for Mr. Bulyea's action, we should go back to Ontario in 1871. Mr. Blake, who had been returned as a large majority the year before, resigned the provincial premiership. The Liberals in the Legislature met in secret conference when Mr. Blake announced his intention to them and decided that they wished Vice-Chancellor Mowat, who had been on the High Court Bench for eight years, about the same period that Mr. Sifton was to succeed as head of the cabinet. This desire was communicated to the Lieutenant-Governor and he acted accordingly."

NATIONAL LABOR PARTY

The Trades and Labor Council at present in annual session at Fort William, has been talking of the formation of a Labor Party to take its place in the politics of the Dominion among the other existing parties. Such an organization is bound to come sooner or later. There is a strong one in British Columbia, and the Labor party is at the head of affairs in Australia, where it is doing good work. Of course, as was suggested in yesterday's dispatches, such an organization would hardly be under the guidance of the Labor Congress. And it is very doubtful if it will be the outcome of any single effort or conference. It will grow up gradually, and will, without doubt, eventually be a strong factor in the nation's government.

A GENTLE REMINDER

The following is from the Calgary Albertan of June the fifteenth or sixteenth:

"The Edmonton Capital is the same fair-minded journal that marvelled because Mr. Cushing went east just before the annual session of the convention, though it was not wanted at that time. Note that it is all over, the Edmonton Capital marvels because Mr. Cushing is taking a summer trip to Europe. The Capital need not worry, Mr. Cushing is likely to be here as long as the Edmonton Cap-

AUSTRALIA'S N. T. R.

Apropos of the formation of the Labor party in Canada, the Toronto Globe has the following very interesting article on the construction of a trans-continental railway in Australia by the Labor ministry:

"Canada is not the only one of the British overseas nations that is making history. The Commonwealth is heating the southern cross justifies her proud motto, 'Advance, Australia.'

By undertaking the construction of a transcontinental line to connect the settled portions of South Australia with the northern territory, Mr. Andrew Fisher, the quiet, unassuming son who heads the Labor Ministry, has announced the intention of the Federal Government to hold and develop the territories. At first sight this governmental venture builds a railway from the northern coast of the State Railway of South Australia, five hundred miles north of Adelaide, to Port Darwin on the north coast.

The estimated cost of the railway is $25,000,000. The distance to be traversed makes it evident that the railway will not be of the highest grade, but will be rather in the nature of a light colonization and exploratory line.

The construction of the railway is due to no sentimental rather than the requirements of trade, although in the end it is hoped that there will be an important international connection between the north and the south when the northern territory is developed.

At the moment, however, Mr. Fisher and his colleagues have their eyes not so much on the development of Australia's cotton fields as on the Jap. The eastern coast of Australia is occupied by three fairly strong States—Victoria on the south, with a million and a half of people; New South Wales in the centre, with a million and a half; and Queensland on the northern coast, with something over half a million.

South Africa is sending a cricket eleven to make a tour of Australia.

South Africa and Australia are both arranging to send cricket teams to England next year.

And so on.

There seems to be a good deal of strenuous sociability under the old Union Jack.

What Others Say*BRITAIN'S VITALITY

From the Toronto News.

The high birth-rate and the low death-rate of Great Britain disprove the stories of a degenerate England. In the face of such odds as the dense population of its huge industrial centers, the Old Land exhibits a remarkable vitality. In the whole country the death rate is only 12.8 per thousand, and in London only 11.6 per thousand.

The greatest city on earth, with its Whitechapel and all, is the healthiest capital in Europe, and, perhaps, in the world. In the attainment of such a remarkable result efficient government, no doubt, is a primary factor.

The birth-rate in the Kingdom is twenty-six per thousand, or far more than double the mortality. Hence the constant stream of virile immigrants which the Mother Country constantly sends across the seas to the mother states and foreign lands.

Britain is an inexhaustible source of man-power as she is also of man-capital. To a surprising degree the little islands off the west coast of Europe are the dynamo of the world. Their wealth and power and the influences that they exert upon the destinies of mankind constitute a miracle of the centuries.

Great Britain still does over half the world's shipping. She is firmly linked with the daughter-sister states by the bonds of sentiment, common tradition and common ideals. Link them more firmly still by the ties of trade and mutual defense, and the world-wide Greater Britain may bid defiance to time and the erosion of the ages.

A BIRD'S SUICIDE

From the Toronto Globe.

More critical investigation has shown that in the bird world there are many blunders involving heavy penalties. Lighthouses are death-traps for many during every migration.

Other less conspicuous obstacles are responsible for numerous deaths, and even the telegraph wires in cities show that many birds are lacking in discernment.

A snowstorm on Lake Huron a few years ago resulted in strewing the shore with hundreds of drowned migrants. The woods of New Ontario were the scene of a more recent tragedy, when hundreds of warblers starved to death through arriving before the awakening of the insects. Murres have misaken the great lakes for their ocean haunts, and have perished for lack of the abundant life of salt water. Swans have been killed at the Niagara cataract, and ducks have been frozen to the ice after diving for food some of Toronto's sever openings. Nests have been built in exposed and dangerous places, and other fatal blunders have almost every record.

"Let the world know that the United Kingdom do just exactly what in their opinion is best in their own interests, and the Empire will take care of itself. We must not try to raise the British Empire in a forcing house.

All that is needed to accomplish the ease among birds, and there may also be wisdom and folly within their limitations. Sometimes a glaring blunder suggests mortal dangers. Now that the domain of the sparrow is invaded by wandering migrants the bird life of yards, fences, and shade trees is once more interesting. Typical colors, forms, and habits are discerned. The wrens are hurrying southward with their families. Recently in a visited city garden a gnat of white and olive was seen to career swiftly through a blank wall. In the open day it was clearly a case of sudden mental disturbance. The victim was an oven bird, with streaked breast, black mask and orange crown unfeignedly the fatal share.

The builder of the ingenious oven-shaped nest on the ground, singer of the inspiring crescendo in five pairs of linked notes, the same energetic searcher among the dried leaves in spring, met his death by the strange impulse that impelled his suicidal flight. Though positive and certainty may wane in separating wise from foolish courses, it is evident that if there are such things as mistakes the birds make their fair share.

THE GEM FROM DREAMLAND

He found a little gem one day

In Dreamland;

Was neither green, nor brown, nor gray,

In Dreamland;

But oh! was bright and glistened fair,

As in the night's heaven's fairest star.

Whose virgin beauty boundsless are;

This brilliant gem from Dreamland.

He nursed it lovingly, this prize,

Of Dreamland;

It smiled its life into his eyes,

Of Dreamland;

Each day he saw it fairer grow,

And it was warm and blossomed so

That what it promised but heaven could know;

This growing gem from Dreamland.

It grew into a dew, this gem

Of Dreamland;

And helped to lift a care-worn head

In Dreamland;

And a heart beat strong and lived again,

And the cares of life had lost their pain,

For the little diamond shone not in vain;

This helpful gem from Dreamland.

There's many of them here about,

In Dreamland;

With voices loud they each cry out

From Dreamland;

That you might gather and cherish them,

Grow rich in doing good to men,

All by the brightness of a little gem;

This living gem from Dreamland.

BE PATIENT.

(From the Hamilton Spectator.)

The evolution of Empire is a subject occupying the attention of very many people within the British Empire today. Just what is going to happen in the case of the motherland and all her overseas dependencies is a matter of growing concern to a good many thinking people, and to many people, too, who give no evidence of clear thinking. Some of them, too, are extremely impatient, and offer suggestions for an almost immediate rounding out of the empire state, apparently fearful that if the operation is much longer delayed there will be disaster to record.

It is encouraging to note this condition of aroused interest in a theme so important not only to the future of Great Britain, but of the whole world. Never mind if some of the thinkers do appear to be unduly nervous, if others do not do so, because their own particular plan fails of immediate acceptance. The fact that they are thinking at all is the matter of particular importance, giving as it does the assurance that there is rapidly growing desire among British peoples for that closer connection which, because of the growing desire, is made all the more certain, no matter in what form or way means it may ultimately be achieved.

And in the meantime we commend to the consideration of the timorous and impatient ones an observation from the Victoria Colonist which should do much to calm their unnecessary fears and quell their impatience. The Colonist, referring to this subject, says:

"Let the world know that the United Kingdom do just exactly what in their opinion is best in their own interests, and the Empire will take care of itself. We must not try to raise the British Empire in a forcing house.

All that is needed to accomplish the consummation of the loftiest expectations is a little common-sense and patience. Let no one fear to go to sleep at night for fear of the Empire will break up before morning. It was forming during long years, when only a few enthusiasts out on the edge of things considered it worth thinking about."

THE COST OF SPORT

From the Toronto Star.

Sport is called by the Glasgow Evening News "our costliest religion," and it puts that cost at £45,248,000 in one year. And this, it suggests, is the way the money goes:

SOWING MONEY

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

If a recent statement by the Treasury Department is to be taken seriously and literally, the typical farmer of the Empire will till his fields and gather his harvests with his hands off his bank account.

Crumpled bank notes. He has no private wealth and so little opportunity to deposit it in the bank that he makes caches in fence corners about the farm. Says a recent statement from the chief redemption division:

"We are constantly receiving rolls of Treasury and bank notes in more or less rotten and mouldy condition.

Some of it was purposely buried.

Others are simply strayed bills that have dropped from the farmer's pocket while sowing seed or plowing.

The next year the farmer digs up the money and sends it to Washington to be exchanged."

THE CHANGES IN RUGBY RULES

To be no More Fake Kicks—Substitute Allowed in first Half—Ball in Play

Low, E. Marsh.

Toronto is going to have the rugby craze in real earnest this fall, because the indications are that the city will have in the Argos a team to cheer for. There is no use talking. Toronto takes more interest in a winning city team than it does a winning Y.M.C.A. team. The collegians are great favorites, but a city team is closer to the hearts of the fans. The college boys are here today and scattered to-morrow, while a team from the city at large is an integral portion of the sporting element of the municipality. They live and talk there and so command a closer interest than the collegians can ever hope to do.

The Argonauts will be the ones who will be with Smith Lawrence and Ross Craigley behind the line, and Ross Craig on the line will be the team to beat in the Big Four, and the Pardales' St. Miques and T. A. A. C. will furnish good ball in the senior O. R. F. U. By the way, the O. R. F. U. with five senior teams and twenty junior teams is the strongest it has been in five years.

So as to do away with the fake kick so prevalent at the quarter-way station, the following amendment was adopted:

"Kick out is a drop kick from not more than 15 yards from the kicker's goal-line and must be kicked by an opponent. The team entitled to the kick-out shall have the option of a scrummage on the 25-yard line. The penalty for infringement of this rule shall be a scrummage on the side not offending on the 25-yard line."

When a Try is a Try

The words "or over the deadball line" were added to the definition of a try so as to make it clear that when a player carries the ball across his opponent's goal line he is entitled to a try even if he goes into touch-in-goal or over the dead-ball line.

"It is a try, when an attacking player scores the ball behind the goal line on an opponent's error and it thus thrown into touch-in-goal or over the dead-ball line."

So as to make the definition of a rouge clearer the wording was rearranged as follows.

"A Rouge is: (a) When a player getting possession of the ball in his own goal, makes a touch-down, fair catch, or is fairly held there; (b) when the ball or a player of either side having possession of it is in touch-in-goal or across the dead-ball line, except such player carries the ball over his opponent's goal-line and makes a try; (c) when a foul is committed in goals."

To rule 16 was added the following: "No delay for injury to player or any other cause shall exceed two minutes."

It was decided to insert after the word "quarter," in the sixth line, rule 11, section 1, the following:

"At the end of the first and third quarters the ball is to be put in play at the opposite end of the field in the same spot, when time was called, the team in possession of the ball to retain possession, and down to count the same as if play had not been interrupted."

To section one of the playing rules it was decided to add the following: "so as to gridiron the playing field."

A diagonal line shall be marked at the centre at right angles to touch line, and similar lines ten yards from the goal line and parallel to it."

The Inter-Provincial introduced an amendment to change the scoring rules by not allowing a score on a ball kicked to the dead ball line or into touch in goal, which does not touch an opponent. It was defeated when it was pointed out that it would be "good tactics" for a defending half back to let the ball go to a thief than take a chance of making a muffed.

The Ontario Union suggested that the penalty for off-side in scrummaging be the side in possession of the ball to 10 yards and not 15 yards from the ball, but it was decided not to make any change, the rule not having worked any hardship in the past.

Substitutes may be put in at any time in the first half for any reason. In other words a man may be tried out, and if found wanting replaced. Under the old rules to get a poor man out, injury had to be faked, and he took off with a man from the opposing side.

MCDOUGALL WON CUP

The season of Edmonton Sunday school baseball league was brought to a close last evening when McDougal Church won from First Presbyterian by a score of 8 to 3.

The standing of the four teams of the league is: McDougal, Grace, First Presbyterian, Westminster.

The make-up in last night's game was as follows:

McGongall, Blayney, c; Butchart, p; Engler, hb; Carter, ah; Lynn, ss; Carruthers, 3b; C. English, cf; Bill, flr; Prud'homme, lf.

Presbyterian—D. Potter, c; Ross, p; C. May, ah; Duncan, 2b; Cutliffe, ss; Howe, ab; H. Deane, cf; Prud'homme, rf; Whitehead, lf.

The league has had an exceedingly successful initial season. The competition has been keen throughout, and many good players have been developed in the different teams. Indeed, many people think the article of ball was nearly as fast as that played in the city league.

Aided interest was given to the competition by the donation of a trophy trophy by Messrs. E. H. Thompson, J. L. Hoadley, and the Edmonton Sporting Goods Co.

The trophy is a cup presented to the cup with the suggestion that Archdeacon Gray, Rev. R. Pearson and Mr. J. W. Ward act as trustees, and that it pass into the permanent possession of any club winning it three times (not necessarily in succession).

It is presented with the idea of encouraging clean and healthy sport among the young men of the city, and if this year is any criterion, Messrs. Simpson and Hunter have succeeded very well.

THEY GLOAT, THEY GLOAT

From the Calgary Albertan.

This is the time when every person living north of the Bow river announces that he is a Hillhurst man. Hillhurst will get up a Calvary-Hillhurst-Calgary team and sent it to England, where it would make this city famous.

ST. GEORGES BEAT S.O.E.

Last evening at the Second street grounds in a Shield game, St. Georges won from Sons of England by 3 to 0. The Sones had the better of the play throughout and showed a fine combination on their forward line.

It grew very dark towards the end of the game and this evidently effected the referee's eyesight as his judgment on off-sides seemed rather bad.

The Saints meet North Edmonton on Friday night, the winners playing Norwood for possession of the Charity Shield.

RYBKY PRACTICE THURSDAY

About fifteen members of the Edmonton Rugby Club were out at practice last evening and put in some hard work.

The key of the dressing room has now been secured, so players will now be able to leave their footballings at the grounds. On Thursday it is the intention of the management committee to get two teams on the field and the following players and any others desirous of playing are requested to be at Diamond Park at 6 o'clock sharp.

Y. M. C. A. WILL ORGANIZE

An informal meeting of Y.M.C.A. rugbymen was held last evening and the question of organizing a team was discussed. If sufficient members can be interested in the new departure, a team will be put in the field to play practice games with the Eskimos.

The first practice is called for 6.15 this evening at the Second street grounds and the following players are asked to turn out: Nicholson, Short, Hardisty, Wilson, Nelson, Stockdale, Black, Rougham, Gran, J. B., Farney, Tompkins, Crews, Chown, Dingle, Blayney, Newman, McKay, Cowan, Kirkpatrick, Atkin, McCormick and any other members of the Y. M. C. A. who wish to play rugby this fall.

We are quite prepared to hear the Almonte say, "Mind your business." Perhaps we should, but as Edmonton dragged the Lethbridge Herald into the controversy we merely wish to state the true facts of the case.

DID HUNDRED IN NINE FLAT

Further Details of Perry Williams' Wonderful Feat—Timer's Name, Please!

A hundred yards in nine seconds flat! This is the feat timers and witnesses say Richard Perry Williams, physical director and coach of the Berkeley School, New York, accomplished at New Lyme, Mass.

The make-up in last night's game was as follows:

McGongall, Blayney, c; Butchart, p; Engler, hb; Carter, ah; Lynn, ss; Carruthers, 3b; C. English, cf; Bill, flr; Prud'homme, rf; Whitehead, lf.

Presbyterian—D. Potter, c; Ross, p; C. May, ah; Duncan, 2b; Cutliffe, ss; Howe, ab; H. Deane, cf; Prud'homme, rf; Whitehead, lf.

The league has had an exceedingly successful initial season. The competition has been keen throughout, and many good players have been developed in the different teams. Indeed, many people think the article of ball was nearly as fast as that played in the city league.

Williams clipped three-fifths of a second off the official A. A. U. yard record sprint made by Dan J. Kelly at Spokane, Wash., June 23rd, 1906.

Three-fifths of a second! What is that? The quiver of an eye-lash, the flutter of a star, a heart-beat, the flutter of a bird's wing. But it's a great deal.

Let Williams and Kelly race 100 yards, each running the distance in his own time, Kelly in 9.3 seconds, Williams in 9 flat. Both runners leap into the air at the crack of the pistol. They come down the stretch blundered by their speed.

Williams breaks the tape when Kelly has still 18 feet 9 inches to go half the width of a city lot. That's what a heart-beat, three-fifths of a second, is in the 100-yard dash.

Williams had to cross 33 feet 4 inches each time a watch's second hand moved.

Williams made the record in the presence of a small gallery of Pine Grove, Mass., summer residents on the track at the State camp grounds. Two men with stopwatches caught the time at 9 seconds flat. The watches agreed. The track is straight and level. No wind was blowing.

The A. A. U. will not accept the record, made officially it was, later, at some of the authorized meets, Williams will be given the chance to make good.

LETHBRIDGE VS. CALGARY

Our sporting contemporary on the Lethbridge Herald is coming in for a lot of abuse at the hands of the Calgary Albertan.

The fact of the matter is that the double-play triplet of the Chicago Cubs are as adroit as any, and with their skillfulness run on double plays, and if the Cubs cap the pennant, as they undoubtedly will, "Tinker to Evers to Chance" will be to wretched the Athletics out of the world flag, there will be something more in the paper about "Tinker to Evers to Chance."

The three knights of the double-play upon the mind of a New York writer until he simply had to rush into print with some poetry to get it off his chest. That set some other near poets to scribbling, with the result that the score in poetry league now stands thusly:

The true facts of the matter are as follows: On Tuesday morning, about 12.30 the staff correspondents of the Edmonton Capital and Bulletin were in the C.P.R. telegraph office at Calgary typing some copy. They happened to meet the Lethbridge reporter and told him Carney had called off the game on account of wet grounds, when the diamond could quite easily be fixed up. The subject of the Albertan's abuse then said that he was entirely unbiased, but wished to see a square deal, so would examine the grounds and if they were fit, notify President Eckstrom.

Everything was found out to be as stated by the Edmonton scribes and the league president was informed of the fact. Mr. Eckstrom gave no decision whatever, when the phone on Tuesday afternoon, but later in the evening phoned for Umphre Wheeler to call to Lethbridge.

Listen to this: "This person carried the message to the umpires and he carried the measure to Edmonton, but he delivered no such message or any message to Calgary."

In the first place what message did this "person" carry? The Eskimos got out on the field at the suggestion of the Edmonton newspaper men, and not by reason of any message from the president. And, furthermore, the sporting editor of the Calgary Herald phoned Manager Carney and told him Deacon White and his players were leaving for the ball park, to which Hill replied, "Aw, let 'em go. I have beaten them out of the pennant, by my personal running."

We are quite prepared to hear the Almonte say, "Mind your business." Perhaps we should, but as Edmonton dragged the Lethbridge Herald into the controversy we merely wish to state the true facts of the case.

BURT AND POTTS

Boxing fans should not lose any time in securing their seats for the Burt-Potts exhibition on Friday evening. Preliminaries start at 9.30 while the main bout which is billed for 15 rounds, starts at 10.30.

Both men have worked hard for the fight, and are right down to weight: The bout is attracting attention throughout the province, as witness the following extracts from the Alberta:

"The bout in Edmonton this week between Potts and Burt is attracting considerable interest. Potts stands the same in Edmonton as he does in Calgary, and when he goes on, the boxing fans pay their cash, knowing he will give them the best there is in him."

"Potts will come to Calgary after the Burt bout to prepare for Maurice Thompson. Jimmy intends staying West for a month or two, which means he will have several bouts in Calgary and Edmonton. If the Potts-Thompson bout goes through O. H. E. Jimmy will meet Curley Ulrich later on. Curley is at his best in boxer-clean break. Last fall he knocked out Maurice. The only thing he has to do now is meet some swallow. Thompson is the toughest little boxer that stepped into this part of the country. From Ulrich outweighs Thompson and Potts by ten pounds, and that makes a big difference."

LAURIE TOOK A FANCY

Cue Hair Like Laurier

This man McBride, whose opposition consists of a forlorn two Liberals in the British Columbia Legislature, was waiting on the landing stage at Victoria to welcome Sir Wilfrid ashore from the Princess Charlotte. His grey hair hung behind his head like Laurier's—like Sir John Macdonald's. His coat was cut like Laurier's. His carriage and address were like Laurier's. For he admires Laurier. The old Liberal premier is said to be his model, his ideal, his inspiration. The man who is riding to power as he waited there for Laurier, all along the landing stage behind him cut flowers were sent in clusters at intervals to do honor to the federal premier. That night the legislative buildings of British Columbia were ablaze with lights, and the whole city, on the intimation of young McBride the Tory, was in feu for Laurier.

There have been plenty of rumors of McBride in Eastern Canada, but that has been all. At the conference of provincial premiers he gained some notoriety by his successful aggression in the interests of his province. The old premier liked him and the graft, owing Whitney's sake, he had to have secretly declared that he had discovered a prophet and he is even now, they say, writing for McBride to climb over the mountains and take Canada in hand. But in the east generally he is little known. New Westminster, where he was born, has no distinction. His career at the Bar brought him none and his ability as a platform speaker amounted, and still amounts, to nothing. For these reasons the east has not known him; but it surely shall some day.

Conventions Need Him

In the first place he is fairly able, very ambitious, and quite young. In the second place the Tory party needs him, and will not find a substitute. As a man he is not to be compared with R. L. Borden, but as a politician and a leader he would exceed the former. Those two things ought eventually to bring him to the leadership. The chances for his success should be worth having. To begin with, he is in the right stage when Laurier had resigned. Ministers must pass before that time, to judge by Sir Wilfrid's present appearance, but come it shall, and the hero-loving public, according to some of those in the Laurier party, may have two men to choose between: George Graham and McBride. Both would have their strongholds, and their weaknesses. Both would consider the free trade demands of the prairies with open minds. Graham would have the advantage of Laurier's support and an excellent record. Graham's personality would out-weigh McBride's. Graham's depth would out-fathom McBride's. His statesmanship and qualities of mind would out-number McBride's. But in 'e west, with its representation increased after the next census, McBride would have the advantage. A Westerner himself, with perhaps Haifain, of Saskatchewan, as an aide, he would satisfy the west's demands for more adequate personal representations among federal chiefs. A. L. Sifton, the new premier of Alberta; C. W. Cross, of Edmonton; Dafoe, the editor of the Manitoba Free Press, as Liberals, may grow into federal politicians. At all events the Liberals in the west need them.

Clever Not Bravery

An interview with McBride is deceiving. Nobody could ever be as splendid as he impresses you as being, so there must be a weakness somewhere. It is a common saying in British Columbia, that nobody could ever be as wise as McBride looks. It appears he is. He is clever, but not bold. He has not enough dash to be forceful. The key-note of him is the cleverness. His enemies call him a mountebank and a film-dramatist. Some things support them, and they cannot explain away McBride's successes. They cannot overlook his genius for organizing political machines, nor his ability to use his personality. He cannot speak. On the platform he is merely a democratic noise. He is not an administrator. He has no great policies. He has no records except one for nerve in Readying old Sir Charles Tupper's son out of the party. He has not been connected with any objectionable land deals, and is said to be a true good friend of the C. P. R. But none of these things counterbalance his organization and personality. He could offer the forlorn Tory party a record of victories against the honorable defeats of that admirable man, Mr. R. L. Borden. In two years he would have his organization complete, and in one year would have secured a personal following that would weigh heavily. Above all, being the politician, he is not a mere reformer, he would bring a good-looking policy that would, with things being favorable, hold enough wind to float his vessel into the desired haven. But in

ADVOCATES A WEEKLY WAGETrades and Labor Congress Had a Very Busy Time of It
YesterdayARE INVITED TO LONDON
London, Ont., Asked Congress to Hold Next Session in That City

Fort William, Ont., Sept. 13.—Immigration was the principal theme of discussion at this morning's session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. W. V. Trotter, of Winnipeg, presented a long report on the subject in which he laid special stress upon the fact that the government had made compulsory the payment of wages weekly in cash and within twenty-four hours of the employee stopping work. This is to protect men against the abuses in connection with the use of time checks.

An Alberta Case Discussed
Clement Stubbs of Bellevue, Alberta, vice-president of District No. 18, United Mine Workers, read a telegram dealing with a case in which the Northwest Mounted Police are alleged to be holding a man named Deering, under charge against him despite the fact that the coroner's jury, acting on an accident in connection with the case, declared Deering not open to charges.

As to Immigration
It should be understood that no scheme detrimental to the interests of Canadian citizenship will be tolerated and Canadian citizenship must be held to include more than the Manufacturers' Association and their allied press. No scheme of Imperial labor can possibly agree to which is not preceded by a system of Provincial and Dominion exchanges. Any other arrangement would be open to a repetition of the scenes of stamping by the Salvation Army to British Columbia of 100 persons when there were 7,500 unemployed people in Toronto alone.

Fight Against Corporations
It should be clear that our fight from now on is not so much against a number of discreted societies as against many schemes of a crowd of dividend-paying corporations who have decided upon Canada as a field for their operations whose agents have been much in evidence during the summer months!

The subject of immigration was referred by the Congress to a special committee to make a report.

Vancouver Wants Congress

An invitation from the mayor of Vancouver to meet in that city next year will be considered with other invitations later on. Several resolutions have been referred to Resolution Committee. One of these calls for legislation to improve the conditions of accommodation of men employed in lumber and construction camps.

Closes Bars on Labor Day
James Cooker, president of the Port Arthur Trades and Labor Council, offered a resolution asking for legislation closing all bar rooms on Labor Day. It will be considered with the other resolutions that have gone to the resolution committee.

One resolution passed reads as follows: "That as the capitalists of the world create all wars this Congress will prohibit them doing their own fighting."

The Afternoon Session

Many important resolutions were submitted and adopted this afternoon's session, all calculated to further the ends of trades unionism in improving the working conditions under which productive labor is carried on.

Major Beatty, of London, telegraphed an invitation to the Congress to meet next year in that city, but it was placed with the other invitations for consideration on the last day, which is expected will be Friday afternoon, when the new officers will also be elected.

Politics in Province's Interest

In a resolution offered by James Cooker of Port Arthur, the resolution's position of the Congress in the matter of independent political action was an interview you might easily be deceived into overlooking everything but McBride's seeming ability. He is reserved, fearfully sagacious, and at times wonderfully bright. But it is the skill with which he hides his weaknesses that reveals the greatest of them.

He adores Laurier, and delights to honor him. It is a touch of the genuine about McBride that really seems bona fide. It is a manifestation of admiration and condor in him. Men can't help respecting Laurier, but it can be no more so than Laurier may have imitated Sir John Macdonald, and Sir John undoubtedly imitated somebody else. McBride has a personality, a character, and a destiny of his own.

But it is Laurier's regard for McBride that is the more interesting. Laurier respects him, admires him—more—he is said almost to envy him to the Tories. It is whispered that Laurier has named him, reluctantly, but with certainty, as the next Conservative premier of Canada—whatever that may be—B. B. Cooke, in Toronto Star.

reaffirmed, and the provincial executives were accorded powers to deal with local situations that amounted practically to provincial autonomy.

The Congress placed itself on record as in favor of an eight-hour day for letter carriers, with double pay on Sunday, and a radical change in uniforms, which were described as unbecoming and torture-producing. One delegate said the winter uniform made the letter carriers look like monkeys. The uniform should be regulated according to winter and summer.

Blacklisting Considered

The use of the character note and blacklisting, which operated in some cases against a man throughout the whole breadth of the Dominion, was condemned on motion of D. McCallum, of Winnipeg.

The Dominion executive, on motion of W. Symonds, of Leithbridge, was asked to urge upon the Dominion government, the advisability of a law making compulsory the payment of wages weekly in cash and within twenty-four hours of the employee stopping work. This is to protect men against the abuses in connection with the use of time checks.

An Alberta Case Discussed

Clement Stubbs of Bellevue, Alberta, vice-president of District No. 18, United Mine Workers, read a telegram dealing with a case in which the Northwest Mounted Police are alleged to be holding a man named Deering, under charge against him despite the fact that the coroner's jury, acting on an accident in connection with the case, declared Deering not open to charges.

Tomorrow afternoon the delegates will be entertained to an excursion on the bay and Thursday evening a big public meeting will be held at the Wesley Methodist church, Fort William. There will be addresses by speakers representing all the provinces.

THERE WAS NO CONFERENCE

It is probable that at least four railways will make application at the forthcoming session of the legislature for the guarantee of bonds. One of the probable applications will be by the Canadian Northern, who may ask for a guarantee of the bonds for the construction of their branch from Stettler to the Brazeau coal fields.

There was a report in this morning's Journal of a conference between President McCloskey of the C.N.R. and Premier Sifton, during the latter's recent visit to the city about the guaranteeing of the bonds for this branch and other lines projected.

When seen by the Capital this morning, however, Premier Sifton declared that the statements about such a conference were all the result of an overworked imagination.

Another of the applications will probably be made by the Alberta Central line which is building from Red Deer.

C. N. R. TO CONNECT

The Day in Strathcona

Council Meeting.

The Main street property-holders presented a petition at a meeting of the Strathcona city council last night, asking that the proposed concrete sidewalk on the west side of Main street from First Avenue north to Saskatchewan Avenue, be constructed at once. Ald. Bush, chairman of the streets and works committee explained that the holders were willing to pay for the removal of the present wooden sidewalk, to the cost of the Collegiate Institute as well as for the new concrete one. The council decided that the work provided for in the estimates should be completed before the Main street west improvements were undertaken.

Mr. Geo. Elliott and Mr. J. M. Douglas were present to urge the necessity for the sidewalk. Mr. Elliott drawing attention to the fact that the petition was passed on to the public works committee in 1907 with power to act.

The water and sewer committee reported that on the advice of the city solicitor the Strathcona Brewing and Malting company could be made to pay for repairs to sewers damaged by their placing indissoluble refuse in it.

A communication was received from Major G. W. Marriott, commanding B squadron A.M.R.'s, asking for the use of the upper storey of the old fire hall as an armory until the new armory was built. The request was granted.

The secretary treasurer read the communications passing between himself and the Amelias Petrus company, subsequent to the acceptance of the company's tenders for the city's 1910 debentures.

In answer to a letter from J. T. J. Collison, secretary of the Children's Aid society, the treasurer was instructed to pay the second instalment of the city's grant to the society.

T. M. Eaton the contractor for the new fire hall asked the council for the privilege of drawing on the fire hall account or an amount sufficient to cover all liabilities.

A BABE FOR THIRTY DOLLARS

Child Said to Have Been Bought to Figure in a Plot

London, Sept. 14.—A sad story surrounding the death of a four-month-old child of mysterious parentage brought over from Paris, was told at an inquiry at Old Bailey. The child died in the infirmary.

Mrs. Annie Poosney, the wife of a painter, said she took the child over on May 25th. She took it from the supposed mother, who said she had brought it over from Paris. Witness asked $1.25 a week for its keeps, but Miss Frankel said she would willingly pay $2 if only she would keep it, as she did not want it. Witness fed the child on prepared barley and cow's milk. Later the child was taken en route.

In answer to the coroner, witness said she was licensed to keep four children. She pressed Miss Frankel as to the baby, and she admitted it was not hers.

The Coroner: "Did she say where she got it?"

"Yes," she said she got it from Paris, where she paid the mother $30 for it."

"Did she give you the mother's name?"

"She did not seem clear on it, but she believed his name was Will Bliss. She told me she met the mother down by the River Seine in Paris, where the mother was going to drown herself and the baby."

The coroner said the child had had a short but exciting life, as it had clearly been purchased for $30 for the purpose of extorting a large sum of money from a man, which, however, did not come off, and then it became a nuisance. It seemed clearly a natural death, but it was a very sad business.

"Don't be unscrupulous in a small way, son," said the coroner.

"There is a big difference between watering stocks and milk."—Louise Courier-Journal.

SATAN SANDERSON

—was up in a hurry then and "feeling all along the courthouse wall like a drunken man, he made his way to the further deserted street. A passerby would have shrank at sight of his face and halting eyes.

For those years he, the Rev. Henry Sanderson, disgraced, had suffered eclipse, had been sunk out of sight and touch and hearing like a stone in a pool. For these masses—through an accidental fact resembling a coincidence of circumstances of dream—stances he had owned the name and memory of Hugh Stiles. And Jes—stica? Deceived me less than he did her pitiful error from that mistake? But she had told him that from her eyes, her words, her smile, she had never seen the real Hugh in Smoky Mountain. She must learn the truth. Yet how to tell her? How could I tell her all?

At any hour yesterday, hard as the tortures of hell, he could have told her. Last night the hour passed. How could he tell her now? Yet she was the real Hugh's wife by law and right. He himself could not marry her. If God would but turn back the universe and give her youth again,

He felt dragged, as though from cold, he climbed the mountain road. As he walked he took from his pocket the little gold cross and his dagger, sword and shield, and then the secreted gun. It had been only a bummer. A pocket piece required he knew not when or how. Now he knew it for the badge of his calling. He remembered how that pressed a certain way, it would open, and engraved inside was his name and the date of his ordination.

He might shut the cabin door, but he could not forbear the tortures that came with him across the threshold. He might throw himself on his knees before his face in the rough skin of the couch, but he could not shut out words that blent in golden lettered flashes across his throbbing eyeballs. "Thou shalt not cover thy nakedness." . . .

So he crouched, a man under whose feet life had crashed, leaving him plumed beneath the wreck to watch the fire that must creep nearer and nearer.

Curiously held Jessie still in the Evans' room, as his mind was given over to a descent into the dance hall. Then, thinking of the growing dark with some trepidation, she started toward the mountain.

Ahead of her a muffled puff-puff sounded, and the sound of an automobile was coming slowly in the same direction, and she quickened her pace, glad of this quad company.

A little way up the ascent a dim shadow stopped her. She saw . . .

made her anxious. Moreover, she was more concerned, for she could not now come home without being seen. As she waited a man came from the path and joined the others. The sky had been overcast and gloomy, but the moon drew out just then, and she saw that it was now nearly midnight, a patrol, cast a look in the hollow of his arm, and also saw that one of the first three was the automobile's owner.

For some minutes they conversed in undertones, whose very secrecy inflamed her imagination. It seemed to her that the man spoke louder to the fiend. Had there been another robbery of the sluice boxes, and could they still suspect Hugh?

Dread and indignation made her bold. When they turned into the path again, she made a noise, and all she was close behind them. They had stopped again and were looking intently at a shadowy gray something that lay in the bushes below.

DID NOT PAY FOR GOAT

And So Goatherd Is Suing the Woman Who Was Owner of the Money

Paisley, Sept. 12.—The judge of the Vauquard quarter has been called upon to decide a very curious affair.

A few days ago a rich woman living at Espannes, near Paris, came into the city to draw a sum of money from her bank. After she had received payment she walked to the Vauquard quarter to visit her parents, and on her way stopped to count the money.

During her count she dropped a note for $300, which was carried away by the wind. A goatherd, who was passing with a number of sheep, picked up the note, and was about to give it to the woman, who had run toward him, when one of the animals snatched the precious paper from his hand and before the man could effectively interfere had eaten it.

The woman accused the goatherd of having given the note to the animal, and a policeman, who was called, took the four-legged thief and the goatherd before the customary of police. The magistrate found himself in a difficulty, for, as he pointed out, he had no power to punish the animal.

To prove his honesty the goatherd offered to sacrifice the offending goat, and she animal was taken to the Vauquard abattoir and killed. The bank note was found in bits, but as the number is still decipherable the woman will be able to recover the money.

The goatherd, having demonstrated his honesty, demanded that the woman should pay for the goat. This she refused to do, and the man has applied to the judge to settle the question.

AVIATION SLANG

Paisley, Sept. 13.—The humorist has invited a number of women and here are some of the more or less funny expressions in use at Mourmelon, the French drill grounds for airships:

"He cut some wood" describes an aeronaut whose machine was damaged.

"He is a match maker" describes the aeronaut whose machine has gone entangled in pieces.

"Mickey mouse" is the name for a very slow airship.

An airship of moderate velocity is called "a coffee mill."

Bleriot tells a funny story about an old "American woman," who paid him a hundred francs for being taken in the airship. Bleriot thought a short flight would suffice the old girl, but she kept on saying "higher," and insisted upon going higher all the time. When she repeated the command when they were about 400 feet above the earth Bleriot refused to go on. "I didn't bargain by the yard," he said. "Madame, we are up 400 feet now, and for a hundred francs that's a good distance. At any rate, I won't go higher for so little money!"

The American woman didn't understand a word; all the French she knew was "higher." And she kept saying that even when they had returned to terra firma.

The poorest way to serve the Prince of Peace is to preach prejudices.

SMOKING TO BUY BOY LEG

Friends Hope to Replace Member
Lost Under a Car

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 14.—The friends of Charlie Hough, and there are many of them, are almost smoking themselves to death in order that Charlie may have a wooden leg. Charlie lost a real leg under a freight car several years ago, and since then he has found a cigarette coupon catalogue which schedules a fine wooden leg for 4,000 coupons.

Charlie is a kind of private secretary to "Mickey" Tracy, king of the newsboys, and "Mickey" has taken a hand in the coupon collecting. From his vantage ground at the corner of State and Warren streets, where he sells newspapers every day, "Mickey" hires every cigarette smoking passer-by and "bones" him for the coupon.

Four thousand coupons is a good morsel, but the property of the provincial government. That the mistake had been made was not discovered until the directors of the New Alberta Agricultural Society recently

TOO LIBERAL

Fort William Gives Property to G. T. P. That it Doesn't Own

Fort William, Sept. 12.—The city of Fort William is in the almost unprecedented predicament of having "given away" three streets that it never owned and that it wanted them "back" again.

When the Grand Trunk Pacific chose, four years ago, to extend its line from Port William and Port Arthur, that the lake terminals of that railroad would go to the highest bidder that could qualify, Fort William offered, among other incidentals such as $300,000 in real money, running rights along and across most of the streets in the outskirts of the city. Among these was a highway which is now known as William street, but which at the time the G. T. P. agreement was signed was not a part of the city, but the property of the provincial government. That the mistake had been made was not discovered until the directors of the New Alberta Agricultural Society recently started to lay out an exhibition grounds that would be agreeable to both Fort William and Port Arthur.

The G. T. P. is now asking the Dominion railway board the privilege of running a track along William street. If permission is granted the rails will run right through the middle of the new main attraction building.

Lawyers say that the case is one of the most complicated with which they have ever had to deal. Fort William gave away a street which did not belong to it, the Grand Trunk "received" the street, but did not own it, the city expanded, and the street became a part of Fort William. The city thinks it has had to return to it a street which it gave away but which it never owned.

The master will be threshed out before the railway commission this month.

The usual quarterly business meeting of the members of the Sergts. Mess was held last night in the mess room.

After the disposal of the general business, Sergt. Major, in command of the Sergt. Mess, congratulated Col. Sgt. Hodson, who had completed a two months musketry course at Toronto, on the very creditable showing he made there and particularly on his excellent performances in the rifle matches at Ottawa. The Sergt. Major felt that the regiment and the mess of which Sergt. Hodson is such a useful member, should be proud to know that his position in the "Bisley Aggregate" at Ottawa was such that his inclusion in the team of twenty men to be sent to Bisley next year to represent the Dominion of Canada, is practically a foregone conclusion.

Col. Sgt. Hodson in his report gave a brief but interesting outline of his trip East and spoke very highly of the invariable kindness and hospitality extended to him by the members of the various mess rooms he visited.

The shooting committee, at the conclusion of the general meeting, arranged the details of the handicap competitions to be held for the gold medal presented to the mess by the president, Col. Sgt. Balfour.

The competitions are: These scratch shoots over the ranges of 40 and 60 yards, ranging under the usual range rules. The two best scores of each competitor to count. The first shoot will be held during the regular matches and will be shot in conjunction with the "City of Edmonton Match" on the 23rd inst. The second on Thanksgiving Day and the third on Saturday afternoon, October 8th.

The committee in order to make as close and interesting a finish as possible, went carefully into the matter of handicaps and a list showing the points allowed each sergeant is now posted in the mess room.

Jack! How is it that Mrs. Brown can get a lady friend and drive her lady friends for me? Well, my dear, Brown is at Horner's Livery and you phone 1334 and order one. Oh, Jack, What a dear.

BOOKKEEPING ERROR*Charge Against John Berg Dismissed

By Judge Taylor

Case against John Berg Dismissed*By Judge Taylor*The case against John Berg, who was secretary treasurer of the Castle school district and who was found to be $20 short when he handed over the books to the treasurer, was dismissed by Judge Taylor yesterday.

It appears that Berg is a man who does not understand English very well and his wife kept the books for him.

A mistake occurred when the books were handed over, but there was no evidence to show who made the mistake.

The case was, therefore,

dismissed as there was no evidence of any intention to do wrong.

CALEDONIAN SOCIETY*On Thursday evening in the Separate school hall the Caledonian Society is going to do honor to the successful competitors who took the prizes at the Caledonian and Police Sports held on August 27th. The committee have arranged a good program and a most enjoyable evening is assured, the artists and speakers are all well known to the Edmonton public and the committee, in presenting their services for that night, A big night such as this is sure to make a good and fitting final to the sports, which was a decided success.
